

Prof. D-r Marjan Gusev

Marjan Gusev (Ph.D. in electrical engineering and computer science) is working as professor at Faculty of computer sciences and engineering, University Sts Cyril and Methodius (UKIM). He is experienced IT Expert and Consultant, Professor and Innovator, Manager and Entrepreneur with a broad knowledge and deep understanding of core business aspects and application of IT in a lot of projects, including Cloud Computing solutions, e-Services, University Management, workflow and document management systems, IT Strategy and Governance, ERP/CRM IT programs, IT Service Delivery, and IT infrastructure.

His enormous experience in the work with diverse and multiple cross functional international teams has been proven as a project manager of several EU funded projects, including FP6, Tempus, COIN and FP 7 programs, such as FP7 FUPOL, sophisticated ICT tools for future policy modelling, COIN EBIZ4ALL project for establishing e-Business tools for SMEs including e-invoices and e-offers and their interoperability, etc.

He has published 47 textbooks and edited 19 conference proceedings. His research portfolio includes more than 600 scientific publications (papers in journals and conferences). For outstanding contribution of scientific research he was awarded with several best paper awards on distinguished conferences, as well as the best scientist award at the University in 2012.